

i feel that to stifle XM radio or it competitors is wrong and unamerican. This is a country that was founded on freedom... this should extend to business. What happened to the freedom of trade. this is crazy, big business doing it again using thier influence to dictate what the public needs. thay have no clue what the public needs or wants. they are force feeding crap down our throats. The likes of XM and Sirrus are a breath of fresh air. they offer something that regular AM an FM staions can not.... SOMething to listen too. And if they want to open up and offer something more they should be able to do so. Technology is available to better people lives, then we should use it.
